

ANCIENTTrim™

Formulation-Friendly Ancient Grains

FUTURE  CEUTICALS

Creating Market Changing Nutraceuticals

VERSATILITY

Ancient Grain Nutrition without Ancient Grain Limitations

Easily Deliver Ancient Grains

AncienTrim™ from FutureCeuticals makes it possible to include ancient grains into smoothies, beverages, soups and more...products that normally could not integrate traditional ancient grains.

The patented FutureCeuticals/USDA-developed ancient grain process lets you incorporate ancient grain nutrition without the typical ancient grain challenges.

AncienTrim Made from Hearty Whole Grains

Amaranth

A protein-rich grain that was once the staple food of the Incas.

Barley

Recently studied for its ability to help maintain healthy blood sugar levels, this whole grain is referenced in ancient Egyptian and Sumerian writings.

Buckwheat

Originally cultivated in Southeast Asia thousands of years ago, buckwheat contains heart-healthy rutin, as well as protein, lysine and arginine.

Durum

Recorded in medieval writings, durum is known for its durability and high protein content.

Chia

High in essential vitamins, minerals and protein, chia was a healthy, energizing staple for the indigenous people of ancient Mesoamerica.

Quinoa

Grown for ages in the Andean Mountains, quinoa is high in protein and essential amino acids.

Spelt

Used during the Bronze Age of Europe, spelt is known for its protein, mineral and vitamin content.

Millet

Originally grown in Asia, millet is best known for its high protein and B vitamin content.
